

Alexandria Gazette.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 26 1893.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Sun rises to-morrow at 4:44; sun sets 7:17. High water 4:37 a. m. and 7:00 p. m.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section generally fair; winds becoming south-easterly.

THE ELECTION yesterday was one of the quietest held hereabouts for many years—in fact, it is safe to say that some people didn't know it was in progress. It was a model election, and should those to follow be on the same order they would prove very satisfactory to all sober-minded people. Bar rooms were nominally closed and the absence of drunken people on the streets, a feature of most contests, was commented on. The primary of the 2d instant, however, was virtually the election; yesterday's balloting was but the formal confirmation of the selections made by the democratic party, and the fact that there were no contestants with the present incumbents for the salaried offices is the best commentary on the integrity and efficiency of those now in charge of the city's affairs. The democratic ticket with but a single exception was elected, Mr. Paul R. Evans, independent, defeating Capt. R. F. Knox for the Common Council in the Fourth ward. Mr. Evans has frequently before represented his ward in the lower board of the City Council. He is a republican, but not of the radical class, and he has many personal friends in both parties. Mr. John Schafe, a bolter from the democratic party, who was desirous of representing the Fourth ward in Council, secured 13 votes, and Mr. J. H. Loh, a "sun-up to sun-down" candidate for a seat among the city fathers from the Second ward, received 28. The following is the official vote:

The election in the county was conducted very quietly, and Mr. H. H. Mr. Frank Hume was unanimously elected Supervisor in Jefferson district, and Mr. R. H. Phillips 35 majority in Washington district. For the first time in many years all three of the Supervisors are democrats.

In Jefferson district republican magistrates, constables and overseers of the poor were elected.

The school levy, 30 cents in Jefferson district, 35 in Arlington, and 45 in Washington was adopted.

Hose Wagons.—The hose wagons for the two fire-engine companies of this city which are to take the places of the hose carriages, arrived here this morning from New York by steamer and were soon taken to the engine houses. They are handsome pieces of fire apparatus and give great satisfaction to the firemen. The wagons are strong and well built and will add greatly to the efficiency of the department. The running-gear is painted bright red and the bodies a darker shade of red with the names of the companies painted on the sides in gold letters. A nickle-leaf runs around the bodies and the seats are cushioned. The wagons are fitted with gongs, &c. The wagons having been somewhat damaged in shipment, the fire wardens to-day ordered them to be put in storage to await instructions from the makers.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. B. Reed gave a shad bake to a number of his friends at his home near Potomac City to-day.

Capt. G. A. Mushbach has returned from Norfolk where he went to prosecute the lottery dealers, recently indicted there. He secured two convictions, and the other cases were postponed till next September.

THE DROWNING OF YOUNG EBERHART.—As has been heretofore stated in the GAZETTE, George Eberhart, the eighteen-year-old son of Mr. John Eberhart, superintendent of the Columbia Brick Works, was drowned while bathing in Hunting creek yesterday evening. The unfortunate youth had been a pupil at St. John's Academy and with nine or ten other students, in charge of Principal Sweeney, went to the creek for the purpose of enjoying a swim, and selected as the most suitable place the beach in front of the Alexandria Brick Works, on the north side of the creek. The boys had been engaged in their diversion some time, when the principal, who had been watching them from the bridge, and warning them to keep from the deep places, deemed they had been in the water long enough and ordered them out. Most of the youths had reached the shore, when young Eberhart, who had gotten out beyond his depth, was seen to throw up his hands and sink. Mr. George Baker and others went to his assistance in a boat as quickly as possible, but the young man did not come to the surface again, and it was almost ten minutes before the body was recovered. It was brought to the shore, rolled on a board and everything else resorted to in order to resuscitate it, but all to no avail. The remains were taken to Mr. B. Wheatley's undertaking establishment, and to-day an inquest was held at which a verdict was rendered to the effect that the young man's death was caused by accidental drowning, the result of his own carelessness, and exonerating Mr. Sweeney, the principal of the school, from any blame. The fact that no water could be forced from the mouth when the body was landed inclines some to believe his death was primarily the result of heart disease. Young Eberhart was a native of Baltimore, and had lived in Alexandria about a year.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.—The re-election yesterday of Henry Strauss, esq., to the Mayoralty of the city of Alexandria is conceded by the major portion of the community to be a fitting tribute to an efficient and worthy official. During the two years he has been the chief executive of the city, he has ever been at the disposal of the people, and no matter how trivial were their suggestions or grievances they secured his immediate and cheerful attention, while at the same time he has proven himself equal to every serious emergency during his incumbency of the Mayor's office. It goes without saying that his second term will be in the main but a repetition of his first, with, of course, the improvements which experience has taught him. Mr. Strauss for a third of a century has been an enterprising and useful citizen. Much of his time during these years has been devoted to the city's affairs. He was elected to the Board of Aldermen during the seventies and, as a member of the finance committee, was prominent in the funding of the city's debt and in bringing her financial affairs into the healthy condition this generation finds them. He was subsequently President of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Strauss has for years been a school trustee from the Second ward, and devotes much of his time to the claims of that position. The fact that he had no antagonist in his own party at the primary and none in the general election yesterday is proof conclusive that he is acceptable to all classes and is the best commentary that can be made on his public services.

THE VAMOOS.—The steam yacht Vamoos, one of the fastest crafts in the world, which was purchased by Mr. Wm. Hearst, of San Francisco, son of the late Senator Hearst, is an object of interest to rivermen on the Potomac, as she cuts through the water between Washington and Mount Vernon daily, leaving the regular boats well in the rear. Mrs. Hearst is in Washington and goes down to Mount Vernon on the yacht each day as vice regent from California of the Mount Vernon Association, now in session. To-day the Vamoos made the run from Washington to this city in thirteen minutes.

POLICE REPORT.—Last night was clear and mild. One prisoner and one lodger were at the station house.

The only case before Mayor Strauss this morning was that of Mary Green, colored, who had struck Julia Buckner, also colored, on the head with a stone. The accused was fined $5 or given 30 days in the workhouse.

MORE COMPLAINTS.—The 7:05 local train from this city having been late very often in the last three weeks and thereby causing great inconvenience to persons working in Washington, Mr. Edwin M. Birrell recently mailed Mr. E. F. Brooks, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, a letter calling his attention to the manner in which this train was run. This train was fifteen and twenty minutes late half a dozen times in the last two weeks, and on the 22d instant was forty-seven minutes late. Mr. B. mentioned the fact that a large number of persons riding on this train, especially navy yard employees, were compelled to be at their work by eight o'clock, and the manner in which the train was run rendered it impossible to do so. Mr. Birrell received the following reply from Mr. Brooks:

WILMINGTON, Del., May 24, 1893.
Mr. Edwin M. Birrell, Alexandria, Va.:
Dear Sir—I have yours of May 18th in reference to train leaving Alexandria at 7:05 a. m. making such poor time, and find that the trouble has not been in shifting at Alexandria but nearly all of the delays have been owing to the draw bridge, which we cannot control, the draw holding the down train and making it impossible for the return to leave Alexandria on time.

However, we will see what can be done to improve the time, as I well understand the necessity for the accommodation at that hour of the day. Yours truly,
E. F. Brooks, Superintendent.

It is said that it is not so much the fault of the draw being open. The trouble seems to be caused by allowing a freight train to leave Washington just before the local, which often causes the local train to be late in reaching this city and thereby causing the delay in leaving. On Monday morning a freight train blocked the road on account of a broken draw head, and caused the local train to be delayed nearly one hour.

INCENDIARIES.—A man named Lawson and a negro boy were put in jail at Luray last night, charged with incendiarism. It is said that Lawson, who worked for a farmer named Compher, near Gum Spring, Loudoun county, was discharged last year, and was heard to say at the time that he would reduce Compher to his own financial condition. Since then several unsuccessful attempts to burn Compher's barn and stable have been made, and yesterday a negro boy was detected in another one, and on being arrested peached, and said Lawson had given him $150 for that, and every previous similar attempt he had made.

CHARTERS.—Judge Norton to-day granted a charter to the Perfect Copy Holder Company, the objects of which are to buy, sell and manufacture patent copy holders. The capital stock is $200,000, divided into shares of $100, and the principal office is to be in this city with Mr. J. S. Beach, as agent. The officers are Washingtonians.

A charter was also granted to the Commercial Investment Company of Washington, the objects of which are to buy and sell negotiable paper, stocks, bonds, &c. The principal office is to be in this city with Col. L. Smith as agent. The officers are Washingtonians.

THE A. L. I. FAIR closed last night after a successful run of ten nights. The fair, as was anticipated from the first, was a success in every respect and quite a handsome sum was realized. The pig was won by Mr. A. Studds, who sold it to Mr. D. Makeley, who in turn presented it to Mrs. Fleischman. The articles left over, and which were disposed of by auction last night, brought good prices.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, held May 25th, 1893, the following minute was unanimously adopted:

The Vestry desire to place on record their deep sense of the valued services of our late fellow member, ANTHONY MCLEAN, who has been taken to his heavenly rest, after a long life of humble and efficient labors in the cause of our divine Master. Following the example of his honored father, Daniel McLean, to whose generosity the congregation of St. Paul's Church was so much indebted, Mr. Anthony McLean, in the days of his health, was unfailing in his affectionate interest in all that concerned the prosperity of our church. In his declining days he still cherished the same devoted attachment. We shall always gratefully remember his Christian example, his genial companionship and warm-hearted benevolence.

The registrar is instructed to send a copy of this minute to the family of our deceased brother, and cause it to be printed in the Southern Churchman and Alexandria Gazette.

REMNANT DAY

It serves the purpose of ridding the departments of the accumulation of all "odds and ends," "short lengths," "small lots," &c.; that's its sole object. But it has a broader, fuller meaning here. It isn't a lot of undesirable, passed things bunched together and sold at reduced prices. It's the remainders—the left overs from all departments, without reserve, the newest and freshest as well as soiled and damaged goods. Mussed, soiled, chipped, scratched and imperfect things are included, and they are sold for what they'll fetch. Remnant day brings practical, economical thoughts, and a dollar will do double and treble service.

In BLACK AND COLORED DRESS GOODS you can find many suitable lengths of the very latest spring fabrics for a gown. Kinds for traveling, for the mountains or the seashore. The DRESS TRIMMING and SILK DEPARTMENT will furnish the garniture, for the unusual demand on their resources has left many choice bits which you can get at almost your own price. So with the other departments. They all hold out rare inducements.
